
This week's Guest Columnist is Richard V. Hogan, Campbell Planning Director. He discusses the future development of Campbell.

SINCE 1960, 37% of the population growth in the bayarea has occurred in Santa Clara County. If growth continues proportionally, it will be the largest county in the bay area by 1975.

Development trends in the south bay are very much like those in the Los Angeles area with more and more land being converted from agriculture to subdivisions. Streets are being extended, utility lines are being extended and new schools are being built. It is no longer possible to tell where one city ends and the other begins.

CAMPBELL IS IN the heart of this entire San Jose metropolitan area and there is no location so well served by the transportation network as Campbell will be. We presently have Highway 17 and the San Tomas Expressway running through the city. The Junipero Serra Freeway is on our north and the West Valley Freeway is planned on the south. In addition, the tentative plan under discussion by the Association of Bay Area Governments proposes a rapid transit line through Campbell which would connect with the lines on both the east and west sides of the bay.

Is all this good or bad or is it both good and bad?

GROWTH IS ALWAYS considered bad by those who would like to maintain a rural atmosphere, who remember the beauty of the orchards, and who remember the personal contacts and easygoing life enjoyed in the small town. It is bad for everyone who has to breathe polluted air, who has to travel on traffic-clogged streets, or who has to travel for miles to find an overcrowded park or a cultural center. However, it is good in that the greatest number of jobs are in the areas of concentration, the greatest opportunities for business investment are there, and it can be the most exciting place to live.

Many, not all, the problems are caused by the type of development we have now. Our urban sprawl forces people to travel greater distances to reach work, shopping or recreation, and at the same time increases air pollution, crowds the streets and reduces available open space. The answer to many of these problems is higher concentrations of people and businesses.

With "home rule" conditions

City approves housing authority

Determined efforts, over a two-month period, by four members of the Campbell City Council to retain some local control in authorizing the Santa Clara County Housing Authority to administer the federally financed lease supplement housing program, paid dividends last Monday night.

The City Council unanimously approved a resolution affiliating with the County Housing Authority as was originally requested in August.

But the resolution Monday contained conditions establishing guidelines to allow for the city and the authority to work together which was not the case in the original resolution that was presented in August.

At that time the City Council was asked to adopt a resolution which four of the councilmen, Mayor Ed Rogers, Bill Smeed, Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde, felt did not provide any safeguard for local control.

DEFERRED

They were reluctant to give a blanket endorsement without the safeguards.

Despite pressure of residents from substandard areas and other interested groups and the urging by Councilman Charles Rose, to adopt the original resolution, the four councilmen voted to defer action until they had investigated the matter further.

As a result of their research, which included a study of the so-called "City of Salinas plan" and a conference with John W. Keast, of the San Francisco office of the Housing and Urban Development, a resolution was drafted which allows the city to retain some semblance of local control.

COMMITTEE

A committee composed of Rogers. Doetsch, Smeed and City Manager Bob Stephens met with Keast last week. It was emphasized at the council meeting Monday that this meeting was especially fruitful. The HUD official commended the city for its efforts to clarify the situation. The resoultion that was drafted and adopted listed nine salient points as guidelines and was largely the results of the conference with the HUD official.

Councilman Rose, who was appointed to the committee, because of his original stand, to study the housing situation, withdrew from the committee and did not meet with the federal housing official.

Keast, according to City Manager Stephens, felt that the Campbell officials appeared to

Bond issue provides for new city administration-police building

Housed in a building on N. Central that was originally constructed in 1891 and was occupied by the Campbell Congregational Church for 65 years, the "headquarters" of the City of Campbell has long been operating under cramped conditions.

Campbell Citizens for Progress, the group spearheading the drive for the passage of the $3.6 million bond issue on Oct. 24, emphasize that "Measure E" of the six proposals on the ballot calls for $850,000 for city administration-police facilities and will eliminate the crowded conditions and make for a more efficient operation of the city.

Probably the most jammed, because of lack of adequate space at the present time, is the police headquarters in the city hall.

Although extremely proud of the record of his department, Police Chief John Morgan feels that the crowded conditions have curtailed the department's operation. Finding space for needed equipment as well as personnel presents a real logistics problem, he claims.

The passage of the bond issue on Oct. 24, the chief emphasizes, will be one of the greatest steps forward in efficient law enforcement in the department's 16 year history.

The other measures on the ballot, members of Campbell Citizens for Progress also point out are equally as important for the future of the city. The ballot measures are all "grass roots" production and were drafted by a citizens advisory committee representing every area and segment of the com-

New industry breaks ground in Campbell

Groundbreaking ceremonies took place Thursday in Campbell at 1587 Dell Ave. for a new manufacturing plant, Snowden-Pencer Corporation. Taking part in the activities were: George Pencer, president of the corporation; Harry Lind, vice-president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce; Homer Hyde, City Councilman; Jeanette Snowden, secretary for the corporation; and Miss Campbell (Carol Moreno).

The $200,000 investment, 10,200 square foot building is expected to be completed and in operation by February 1, 1968. The plant will employ 40 initially, with an expected gain of 15 more within six months. Additional plans call for an added 13,000 square feet for growth in the future.

The Snowden-Pencer Corporation manufacture quality surgical instruments making such tools as: needle holders, dissecting scissors, tissue forceps, and instrument lubricant.

The Snowden Company merged with the Pencer Instrument Company in 1956. In 1958 the company moved its entire operation from Rayway, New Jersey to Los Gatos

Two out of every ten instruments made is exported to Europe. The company also ships to the 50 States.

Also on hand at the plant site were: Tom Snowden, executive vice president of the corporation; Len Edholm, manager of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce; Bob Bullard, treasurer of the Campbell Chamber, and Norm Brown, contractor. Architect for the building is Pete Petersen.

TIGHT QUARTERS--Here is a scene from the Campbell Police Department showing crowded conditions under which police officers must work. The Police Department occupies one half of the Campbell City Hall at 75 N. Central Ave., which was originally constructed as a church in 1892. This picture was taken in the basement where officers must conduct their investigations and make reports. A yes vote for the passage of the capital improvement bonds on Oct. 24 will insure a new civic center complex.

No crossing guards

City hopes better street signs will eliminate traffic hazard on Budd Ave.

Acting on the recommendation of Police Chief John Morgan and Bill Wren, traffic engineer, the City Council on Monday night turned down requests for adult crossing guards at Budd and California and Budd and Virginia but agreed that better signs were needed at the intersections.

In addition, the police chief and traffic engineer were directed to continue to work with the school district on various alternate safety programs for the two intersections.

Both city staff members had submitted written reports on the situation which they supplemented with oral explanations at the meeting.

Budd Ave., they explained, is a two-lane roadway and moderately traveled and it was felt that appropriate signs and channelization of traffic would eliminate some of the hazards existing.

Morgan said that he had met with a number of the parents concerned with the problem and the various remedies had been discussed.

Speaking at the meeting were three mothers from Friar Way, Mrs. Richard Midstokke, Mrs. Wayne Bergman and Mrs. Virgil Williamson. They maintained crossing guards were needed and that more children used the intersections than the city survey showed.

However, the council, based on the extensive reports of Morgan and Wren, felt that the city should first try to improve the problem by more adequate signs before setting a precedent of having crossing guards on two-lane roadways.

Editorials Get Things Done

By Eugene Patterson
Editor, The Atlanta Constitution
1967 Pulitzer Prize Winner

Newspaper editorials get things done. At times, I've wondered what. By now, I think I know.

They get people to think.

They may think the editor is an idiot. The Atlanta Constitution is rich with readers who hold that opinion. In order to arrive at it, however, they must (1) read his unsatisfactory argument, and then (2) justify their own. This is a painful experience on both counts, which may account for the soreness they exhibit in letters to the editor. But they have had to think about the subject.

And the longer I live, the more I believe the value of an editorial is not so much to carry the day, to convince everybody, or to comfort the good and convert the evil.

To achieve those goals the average editor would have to be a lot smarter than he is.

The true and lasting value lies in getting people to think for themselves, to talk and to argue, and finally to decide whatever they want to decide. The process of thought may have adjusted their decision some small distance toward the side of right, wherever that is.

"I guess a man's job," William Percy's father told him, "is to make the world a better place to live in, so far as he is able—always remembering the results will be infinitesimal—and to attend to his own soul."

An editorial is, of itself, no better than the incentive it provides the reader to attend to his own soul, I think. Whether the editorial opinion itself is accepted is secondary to that. The people will find their own way when they think.

The race issue in the South was editorially muffled for many years. The primary contribution of editors like Hodding Carter and Ralph McGill and Lenoir Chambers lay not so much in convincing all Southerners that segregation was wrong; they obviously failed, had that been their purpose. Primarily, they encouraged people to talk about it—to break the muffling silence, to stop fearing discussion of it, to speak the unspeakable and think the unthinkable, and to realize it was a subject they could argue.

This breaking of silent fear, this beginning of talking and thinking, is the goal an editor shoots for in a frozen situation where minds have ceased to question. The editorial doesn't have to be right. But it does get things done.

It gets the people to think.

"maximize the benefits to the citizens of Campbell without hampering the housing authority's functions". He thought this concept was commendable.

COMMENDED

The adoption of the resolution Monday night by the City Council was lauded by Richard Taylor, of Milpitas, a member of the County Housing Authority Commission, who was present at the meeting.

He predicted that there would be no trouble in getting the authority and the city to work together and that the guidelines as specified in the resolution would present no problem.

Other representatives of the groups, including Steve Biggs, of the EOC, seeking to have Campbell affiliate with the county authority also added their praise to the councilmen for their action.

Although Rose voted with the other councilmen in approving the resolution, he expressed displeasure in the way the report was presented by Councilman Smeed. He thought that there should have been discussion on the report rather than on the resolution.

He also criticized the nine-point resolution, point by point. Rose's fellow councilmen at various times during the meeting expressed criticism of his attitude.

Smeed claimed, he felt that "Rose should be more interested in the citizens of Campbell than the citizens of Morgan Hill," and because without the home rule safeguards, the city was giving all its authority to the county body.

Hyde added that the purpose of the resolution was to "preserve some sense of home rule". He was surprised that Rose did not feel that was important.

--APPROVED (in a rather involved maneuver) the request of Quattor Investments to have one billiard table in the restaurant proposed at Winchester and Hacienda.

The company had previously received approval to have four tables in a separate operation from the restaurant but requested withdrawal of that approval. The council obliged.

Under the city ordinance, restaurants and bars are limited to one pool table.

--REFERRED to the Parks and Recreation Commission the request of Le Roy Del Carlo, director of the Campbell Junior Theater, that the city be affiliated with this program.

--APPROVED the vacating of a portion of Sunnyoaks Ave. that had originally been dedicated to the city by Western Gravel but now is not needed for street purposes.

--GAVE FIRST READING to the ordinance changing the zoning of property of Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Olson from R-1-S to C-1-S on Winchester Blvd. south of Latimer.

--GAVE FIRST READING to an ordinance that would allow fire and police employees to retire at age 55 under the State Employees Retirement System.

--REFERRED to the city attorney, the request for a change in the franchise granted San Jose Cable TV because the company had merged with another with a resulting name change.

Trash pick-up is big success

Green Valley Disposal Company reported they picked up 208 tons of trash during last Friday's clean-up campaign in Campbell. The trash filled 26 truck loads, according to Mario Toso, co-owner of the company.

With very few exceptions, the trash was in boxes at the curbs of residences and citizens followed directions in tying branches and cuttings. A few houses on West Rincon were overlooked, Toso said, but they will be picked up this week.

IN AIR FORCE

Girl killed in cycle crash

A 19 year old girl, Sue C. Regan, 41 W. Rincon Ave., Campbell, was killed early Sunday when she was thrown from the motorcycle on which she was riding as a passenger.

Campbell Police reported the motorcyclist was William C. Kummert, 23, of 2155 Lanai Ave. San Jose. He apparently saw the guard rail on Rincon Ave. where it dead-ends with the San Tomas Expressway too late to stop. The girl was thrown 50 feet over a chain-link fence onto the pavement of the Expressway. She was pronounced dead at the Valley Medical Center.

Kummert was listed by the hospital as in fair condition.

Requiem Mass was offered this morning at the Church of St. Lawrence the Martyr, Santa Clara for the girl. Interment will be at Santa Clara Catholic Cemetery. A native of San Francisco, she was a graduate of Buchser High School. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Regan, 1400 McPherson St. Santa Clara, and four sisters Mary, Patricia, Jennifer and Julia Regan, and two brothers, Stephan and Paul Regan.

considerable popularity. With it, privacy can be achieved and wasted narrow sideyards eliminated. Using this idea, the same number of dwellings, with the same amount or more floor space, can be put in a block with enough left over to develop a playground either on the end or in the middle.

ANOTHER IDEA that has been used in single family housing is the elimination of the yard adjacent to the street so that the street becomes a service road and the house is oriented away from the street and toward the yard in the rear. This makes the entire yard space usable and reduces some of the problems of upkeep. An idea like the townhouse combined with the reduction of front yards can increase the efficiency of land use while improving amenities.

ONE OF THE greatest problems in cities is that they die at night. The daytime life of the city is spent in one location and its night time life in another. Much of this is caused by putting offices in one location, retail stores in another, recreation facilities in a third, and locating residential areas somewhere else entirely. Each complex is then surrounded by bleak and ugly parking areas. In some areas and in some new developments today, a more efficient and satisfying way to use the land has been found.

THE VARIOUS USES are stacked one above the other on one piece of land like layers in a cake. In some cases, the lower floor or two floors have been used for shops, with parking above that, followed by offices and, finally, apartments with a recreation area or restaurant as the icing. The most desirable areas are the uppermost floors and these are the living and play areas. Around an area that has been concentrated vertically, adequate space can be set aside for landscaping and beautification.

The residents in such an area can easily reach shopping and recreation areas, businesses have many built-in customers; office workers can have convenient quarters, and all can be moved by that highly efficient, smog-free, verticle vehicle, the elevator. Furthermore, such a place can be a continuously exciting place to live - it is alive both day and evening. Schools and other public buildings can also be constructed vertically and even combined with other uses in order to save land and provide rentals which somewhat offset the tax expenditure.

THE MILLIONS OF dollars that have been and are being expended in and around Campbell for the transportation system are most effective when they serve a highly concentrated area. The policy of continuing our urban sprawl endlessly at greater and greater expense with fewer and fewer amenities is one that needs reconsideration.

NEEDLESS TO SAY, higher concentration is not desirable for everyone nor is it desirable in every location, and the whole secret of satisfactory concentration is the imagination, style and quality with which it is done.

The Planning Commission and the City Council are in the midst of preparing a plan for the City of Campbell of the future. The major capital improvement items being considered by the voters on the bond issue are the foundation stones of that future. They will furnish the base for new investments which are needed to get the city off to a good start. One of the next major questions is the determination of the kinds of development that should be encouraged on the part of private investors.

SHOULD WE AIM for taller buildings, stratified uses, and concentration, or should we encourage decentralized land use, lower buildings and a rural atmosphere? What do you think?

Nursery school enjoys new yard equipment

The children at the Campbell Parent's Nursery School are able to have more fun and more outdoor activity this fall thanks to the donated time and energy of the participating parents. The co-operative nursery school at 528 N. Harrison St. in Campbell has a completely new backyard.

The youngsters aged three to five years old who attend the school can experience the challenge of riding tricycles through obstacle courses, crawl from one of three gym spheres to an oil drum maze of tunnels, launch a raft in a sea of sand from a child-sized pier and pause for a drink of water from their very own fountain.

Last spring the school's board members voted to spend the necessary funds to hire Nelson Van Judah, designer, who made the master plan with the philosophy that outdoor play should be creative and imaginative for pre-schoolers.

The project was carried out under the capable direction of Mrs. Robert Bell and George Clough, Backyard Project and Maintenance Chairmen. Emerson Arends of the Campbell Lumber Company kindly donated all the needed lumber.

To raise funds to complete the second phase of the backyard project, the school is planning a pre-holiday fashion show on Nov. 4, at the Los Gatos Elk's Lodge. Mrs. William Augenstein, Fund Raising Chairman, has announced that the holiday fashions will be provided by Country Casuals and Kiddie World Fashions.

Mrs. Robert Bickel, president, invites any parent interested in enrollment to call Mrs. Marita Trobough, Membership Chairman at 293-5344.

Six ways to cut the cost of your winter heating bills.

1. Have your heating system checked now.

Don't let the first cold snap catch you unprepared for winter. Call your furnace man or plumber. He'll make sure your furnace is in safe working order with gas pilots operating.

2. Insulate.

Insulate floors and ceilings and you'll cut heating costs up to 45%. Good insulation increases the value of your home—and often pays for itself in just a few seasons.

3. Weatherstrip.

Weatherstripping around outside doors and windows plugs heat leaks and keeps cold air outside. A doorjamb may require a metal strip to take the constant friction of opening and closing. Loose windows may need a thick felt stripping.

4. Close dampers and drapes.

When not using your fireplace, close the damper so heat won't escape up the chimney. Also, close window drapes at night. Otherwise, 16% of your heat is lost.

5. Set your thermostat—and leave it.

Frequent changes in room temperature settings mean a bigger heating bill. Agree on a healthy thermostat setting (say 70°) and leave it there.

If Junior says he's cold, put a sweater on him.

6. Change filters.

Most forced air furnaces have filters to trap dust. For maximum heat flow they should be replaced every six months. Clean dust and lint out of wall and floor heaters periodically, too.

Bigger bills, but lower rates.

Your winter PG&E bills will reflect increased heating and lighting, TV watching, more hot meals and more appliances in use.

But there have been six reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates in the past four years. So summer and winter, your PG&E service is a bigger family bargain than ever.

Letters to the Editor

COLLECTOR

Editor
The Press
35 Dillon Avenue
Campbell, California
Dear Editor:

I am a handicapped veteran, living on a small pension. My vision and hearing are leaving me. The doctors tell me there is nothing they can do. Not wanting to worry about it, I have made projects to keep busy with, in an effort to forget my defects.

One of my projects is the history of the calendar. I am collecting real old calendars to use as illustrations and have four that are 1882, 1883, 1887, 1896 and looking for others.

While I am collecting old post cards, bookmarks and Reward of Merit cards, most of my projects concern histories of holidays like Easter, Halloween and St. Valentines Day. To make it interesting, I am collecting real old valentines to use as illustrations and plan to give them to a museum when I finish.

I have two valentines that are over 125 years old and four that are over 95 years old and a few dating back to 1880, but on my limited funds, I am having a hard time getting a better represented collection of real old valentines.

I was in hopes that perhaps a few of your readers may have a few real old valentines they do not want, because I would be happy to have any they may care to send me, and be glad to get them.

Eventually, I hope to try writing a book about my projects, in an effort to earn enough from it to get off this small VA pension and have some medical care, which the VA is unable to afford me, so my projects have a dual purpose.

Thank you for your time and kind consideration in reading my letter. I hope I may be hearing from a few of your readers.
Respectfully yours,
Leon Thompson

College master plan specifies only two sites

West Valley College district governing board last Thursday approved the master plan for construction on both the Saratoga and Santa Clara campuses.

The board also approved the acquisition of land for a third site in the southern end of the district but took no action on specifying a future campus for Campbell.

The plan was prepared in compliance with a new state law which requires junior colleges to submit capital construction programs to the State Department of Education. The plans must cover the ten year period beginning Nov. 1, 1967.

Construction schedules range from work on the language arts, social science and warehouse facilities in Saratoga in 1968-69, to construction of the physical education building on the Mission Campus in 1978-79.

The master plan time schedule is not, however, an inflexible commitment on the college's part. It may be altered annually by the board, but any such changes must be filed in Sacramento.

Before approving the schedule Thursday night, the board voted to add the acquisition of land in the Cambrian-Union area for a third campus site. Board member William J. Homan urged his colleagues to insert this item--slated for 1971-72--because the college has not planned any campus for the southern end of the district.

Juniors begin magazines sales; Camden attends UC Band Day

Campbell Corners

by Pat Hebard

Campbell Bucs win again! Our varsity team cleared Camden's team 18 to 7. It was a close game.

There was an All-School rally last Friday. The football players were introduced individually. The Song Girls and Cheerleaders did a great job. They also decorated the field for the game with Campbell's colors of red and blue. There was a big crowd at the game and our spirit really stood out.

The Campbell band surprised the Student Body at Friday's game with a new twist - the Hula-Hoop! All the girls brought one and on cue the Flag Girls, the Majorettes, Pirettes, Cheerleaders, Song Girls and Banner Girls went into their dance! It was quite a sight!

The Letter Girls this year are Jill Ebner (head), Terry Young, Pam Rawlinson, Jennie Henry, Margie Pack, Guadalupe Hernandez, Jody Norris and Pattie Feiman.

The Campbell Band participated in a parade last Sunday in Santa Clara. It was for the Lady of Fatima celebration. There was no formal competition.

MAGAZINE SALE

The Junior Class annual Magazine Sale has begun and Juniors plan to sell three subscriptions each. Proceeds go towards the Junior Prom and their Senior activities. Please support them. For subscriptions to any magazines call either 379-2686 or 378-0167.

Our next game is with Del Mar Dons on Del Mar's field, Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. John Lobrovich, one of Campbell's varsity football players, was injured during practice before the opening game. He is now out of the hospital and we hope to see him back at school soon.

FLOWERS FOR MRS. ANDRES--Robert U. Skibinski, right, United Fund Central Area campaign chairman and Campbell's UF Commerce and Industry Chairman Fred Grinter, of Bruener's, present a corsage to Mrs. Helen Andres, assistant superintendent of Campbell Union High School District. The corsage, received by Mrs. Andres at the Central Area Chapter's first report meeting, is a tribute to her nine years of United Fund volunteer work. Skibinski is vice president of Pacific Telephone, Central Counties Area.

Camden Capers

By Gayle Piech

Parents are invited to acquaint themselves with the Camden campus and its' teachers at "Back To School Night" to be held from 7:30 to 10 tonight, (Oct. 11.)

Parents will be able to attend the classes that their teenager attends daily. This will be accomplished by having the parents follow the regular class schedule of their student. Classes will be ten minutes long with ten minutes between periods.

Following the last class all parents are invited to join with the faculty and staff for coffee in the cafeteria.

This is the first of many interesting and timely programs planned by the Parent Teacher Association for the new year. Parents can show interest in their student's work and school events by attending and participating in PTA meetings.

BAND SELECTED

Camden's marching band was selected to display their talents at the U.C. campus at Berkeley. Participating in Cal's Band Day half-time show, Camden marched along with over 65 high schools.

Camden marchers practiced a planned layout of precise marching and music for three and one half hours in preparation for the event.

This stunning half-time show consisted of over 4,500 musicians marching in perfect unison, dressed in their own school colors.

SENIORS VISIT CITY COUNCIL

Viewing San Jose's City Council in action recently were senior government students, accompanied by their instructor, Mr. William Finck.

Interested seniors left by bus on Oct. 2 and 9 at 6:30 p.m. Students were able to view the section of the meeting entitled "Special Orders of the Day", and were able to listen in on the public hearings.

According to Mr. Finck, the trip was offered in order to obtain a better understanding of city government.

CAMDEN/CAMPBELL GAME

Despite all efforts and fighting "spirit", the Camden Cougars were downed by the Campbell Bucs, 18-7 on the Campbell field.

At half-time, the Cougars trailed by only two points. Campbell, as the result of two Cougar safeties, led by the score of 11-7 midway through the third period. Campbell then scored on a 15 yard pass play, making it 18-7.

After the Bucs final score, Camden had trouble moving the ball. All drives were stopped because of fumbles and penalties.

The Cougar to score was Dennis Fuller. Dennis scored both the touchdown and the conversion on pass plays from Cougar quarterback Rusty Thompson.

FRESH WATER

At times, fresh water from the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers flows out toward the Golden Gate while a heavier layer of salt water from the ocean flows upstream beneath the fresh water.

Blackford Beat

By Linda Hodam

Differing customs in Denmark and the United States were explained to Blackford's journalists recently by lovely Hanne Nielsen, Youth for Understanding student from Denmark. Notable among the differences, she said, is the custom of Danish girls wearing slacks to school.

Among Hanne's favorite pastimes are dating (which begin at the age of 14 in Denmark); sports, which include track, ping-pong; music; and then--American Food!

Hanne loves the novelty of California's mountains, since Denmark has relatively flat land. On her visit to mountainous Santa Cruz she claimed that she could stay there the rest of her life.

Hanne lives with Dianne Russell, a junior at Blackford.

The Brave's second exchange student of the International Christian Exchange program is Ulrich Weitz from Biberach, Germany. "Uli" very much enjoys the beach, likes the girls, and prefers the weather here to Germany.

Uli's real father is an occupational therapist having his own office. His mother is a housewife, formerly a textile designer. Uli's sister, Brigitte, 18 years old, attends a private school to become a doctor's assistant. Wally, Uli's oldest brother, 23, was in Illinois in 1961-62 on the I.C.Y.E. program. Ann, Uli's seven-year-old sister, is in her first year of elementary school.

Uli's American parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hull.

The third exchange student on campus is Joel Redalie, from Geneva, Switzerland, who'd rather sail than eat. When in Geneva, he sails almost every day, as he owns a 14-foot sail boat. He also enjoys water skiing, swimming, and snow skiing.

The schools in Geneva, are different because they are non co-ed, Joel says, and every Thursday is a school holiday.

Joel has a brother, 21 years old, who is attending the University of Geneva, and a sister 25 years old, a librarian there.

Joel is currently staying with the Blyther family whose son, Robbie, is a 1965 Blackford alumnus.

Friday night, Oct. 6, the Blackford Chiefs sponsored "Braves Sock Stomp". Music was by the "Stained Glass".

Del Mar Dateline

by Glenda Vitale

Have you ever seen a funeral procession at a football game? Then you should have been at the Del Mar Dons-Branham Bruins game last Friday, as the spirit section, led by a stretcher of teddy bears, conducted a real funeral procession. Touched by such confidence the Dons went on to bury the Bruins 12-32.

The cast for the Senior Play, "Arsenic and Old Lace" was chosen at try-outs last week. Ethel Mann and Carol Agate were chosen as the two little old ladies; Janice Ricks as Elaine; Robert Kovich as Mortimer, Pat Taylor as Jonathan, Jack Carrerow as Dr. Einstein, John Robertson as Dr. Harper, Bob Remley as Officer Klein, John Erlendson as Mr. Gibbs, Marshall Goldman as Mr. Witherspoon, Steve Kalveledge as Officer Rooney and Jeff Camara as Teddy Roosevelt.

Another new addition to Del Mar is Foreign Exchange Student Babina Kulen Kamff. She is from Munich, Germany, and says that speaking English is much easier than learning it in class in Germany. Babina likes Del Mar very much, especially the football games.

This Monday there was a Fashion Show by Del Mar's fashion representatives. Each girl models clothes from stores they represent.

Next Friday the Dons meet Campbell on Del Mar's field at 3:15 p.m.

Westmont Whirl

By Laura Vierra

Election results are now final and the new class leaders have been selected. The Freshman officers are Laura Aronson, president, Kris Valcazar, vice-president, with Stacie Wardle and Sheryl Alexander as secretary and treasurer.

The Sophomores elected Joe Avilla and Julie Barnes as their president and secretary with Lynne Erichson as treasurer and Colynn Crownover for vice-president.

Junior officers are Marilyn Van Wichen, president; Gail Chun, Khristine Wardle, and Jerri Batson, as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

Our new Dean of boys is Dean Stillwell, who was a former football coach at Westmont.

A paper drive is being held with great hopes of making money. Each class has five bins to fill with each bin worth $50 to the school. The class collecting the most papers will be awarded a prize.

The Juniors have started their magazine sale. They are being asked to sell five subscriptions each thus making the sale a big success. This money will go to their Junior Prom and all Senior activities. All Juniors are urged to get out and sell, sell, sell!

FOOTBALL

A Pep Rally was held Friday before our game against Saratoga. Our Cheerleaders led the cheers and Carol Steinburg, head, was proud to announce that Westmont was leading all the other schools in spirit competition. The Song Girls were very glowing in their different routines. The competition between classes for the "Spirit Stick" was again awarded to the Junior class. It seems the class to beat is the class of "69".

Thursday our Frosh-Soph team was victorious with a 26-6 score against Saratoga. Another defeat was felt by our varsity team Friday when they were taken 14-0 by the Saratoga Falcons.

During half-time entertainment The Westmont Marching Band performed playing such songs as "Entertainment U.S.A." and "Bye, Bye Blues". "Java" was the song used by the Flag-girls for their routine. Our Majorette, Nanette Banks also did her routine to "Java".

The Satin Dolls also performed.

Student Body Cards are still on sale and the 1500th person to buy their Student Body Card will receive it free. Also on sale are the Teen Club Cards for $1.50. So come on Warriors, let's get with it!

Del Mar's hopes are high for fall season

By Ed Gibson

An upset and two records highlighted Del Mar's sports scene this last week.

In varsity football, Don Transeth caught three touchdown passes, one a 52 yarder, to help Del Mar submerge favored Branham 32-12 in the Don's Bowl on Oct. 6.

The win was a great tribute to the Del Mar defense, led by the unblockable Bob Smith. Branham got within scoring distance seven times, but only broke through twice.

The Don's offense completely over-ran Branham's defense with 288 yards gained running and 133 yards in the air.

The varsity team will look for their third win of the season on Oct. 13 against Campbell at Del Mar.

Del Mar's frosh-soph team didn't do as well as the varsity, losing to Branham 28-0 on Oct. 5. The next frosh-soph game is against Campbell at Del Mar on Oct. 12.

The varsity cross country team split a triangle meet on Oct. 4, losing to Westmont but winning over Saratoga.

WAF recruiters report expansion of enlistments

The number of women in the United States Air Force (WAF) will about triple in the next seven years under a newly-approved plan of expansion in both officer and enlisted personnel for the WAF, Air Force recruiters in Campbell report.

Sgt. Roy Rouse, recruiter in charge, said the number of WAF members will climb to about 9,000 by the end of fiscal year 1969 and will rise annually through 1974.

The plan is to raise the number of WAF personnel to about 2 percent of the total enlisted strength of the Air Force, with a corresponding increase in officer strength.

In August the Air Force increased the officer force by 100 and added 1000 WAF airman positions. The Air Force, Sgt. Rouse noted, eventually will have a force totaling more than 17,000 young women.

WAF enlistees are eligible for more than 40 jobs, ranging from computer programmers to dental assistants. Rouse said prospective enlistees must be single, between the ages of 18 and 27 and be able to meet certain physical and moral standards.

He noted additional information on the expanded WAF program may be obtained at the Air Force recruiting office, 2275 Winchester Blvd., Campbell, or by calling 379-6754.

One of the perplexing questions raised by the war in Vietnam is why the world's leading military power apparently is stymied by a little nation which has no air force and an ill-equipped ground force.

One equalizing fact is the terrain of Vietnam, which is about 75% jungle and swamps, making it possible to hide even large pieces of equipment in a matter of minutes. Then there is the difficulty of distinguishing the enemy from so-called "friendlies". But probably the greatest force which has equalized the military situation in Vietnam is Russian military aid to Hanoi.

According to Pentagon statistics, Red China has furnished one hundred million dollars of equipment per year to North Vietnam. But Russia and European communist nations have furnished ten times that amount! By the end of 1966 the Soviets had furnished an estimated $1.5 billion in war aid to Hanoi and is now sending even more.

On July 7 an Associated Press dispatch announced: "The Soviets have furnished the North Vietnamese more than ten thousand artillery pieces, mortars, and other heavy weapons." Russian 140mm rockets and 152mm artillery pieces of the latest type have been used in the past few weeks to fire more than 1,000 projectiles daily and inflict heavy casualties against U.S. Marines near Conthien.

Soviet surface-to-air missile batteries were deployed in the DMZ to handicap B-52 strikes which could have relieved Marines from the artillery battering they were taking. Additionally, the latest model radar and anti-aircraft guns have been furnished by the Soviets or their satellites and have shot down hundreds of American pilots.

The argument that a cessation of bombing might encourage Hanoi to negotiate a peace may have diplomatic and political validity. But from a strictly military point of view it has no validity at all. Those who argue that bombing is ineffective have either not seen or have overlooked reconnaissance photographs taken during the last bombing pause for the Tet truce. Mountains of supplies were moved to the South during that period and there is no question that this freedom of movement made the heavy offensive against such materiel was allowed to be moved without the harassment of bombing.

If the United States were to cease bombing, 250,000 North Vietnamese soldiers who now man anti-aircraft guns and missile sites could be thrown into the war against our troops in the South. In addition 300,000 North Vietnamese who are constantly engaged in repairing damage from bombs would be released for additional war effort.

If a bombing pause would produce an honest negotiation, I would certainly favor it. But it should be on the condition that the pause will not be used by North Vietnam to renew and replenish its offensive capability. Thousands of Marines will endorse this view, and hundreds more would--if they had lived through the attacks on Conthien.

Social Service job exams Nov. 18

Cooperative Personnel Services has announced the last scheduled 1967 entrance examination for Social Service Workers in California's county welfare departments. The entrance requirements call for a bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university.

College seniors in their last quarter or semester of study may participate in the examination. They must secure their degree, however, before they will be eligible for appointment.

The examination is scheduled for Nov. 18 in locations to be announced, with final filing date Oct. 20. Many counties have additional requirements such as a valid California driver's licence, or a preemployment physical examination. Most welfare positions require U.S. citizenship. Salaries vary among the counties.

Application forms may be obtained from any Merit System County Welfare Department or from the Cooperative Personnel Services, 801 Capitol Mall, Sacramento.

Notice is hereby given that sealed Proposals will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District, in the office of the Clerk, Administration Building, Room 524, 70 West Hedding Street, San Jose, California, up to 2:00 p.m. on Oct. 26, 1967, for construction of five reinforced concrete structures, a reinforced concrete invert in an existing culvert, installation of 1,837 ft. of 36-in., 42-in. and 66-in. reinforced concrete pipe and auxilary facilities on a portion of West Ross Creek located in an easement 250-ft. east of Englewood Avenue between Topping Way and Kennedy Road and Kennedy Road between Vista Del Monte and Stony Brook Road in Zone C-1 (Central) of Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District, State of California, in accordance with Drawings and Specifications on file for said work in the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Said Proposals will be opened by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors at the time and place above stated, and a report of the names of all Bidders and the amount of each Proposal will be made by the District Manager to the Board of Supervisors at the next regular or special meeting of said Board following the date of opening of said Proposals.

Symposium takes place here this weekend

A two-day child behavior symposium, sponsored by the American Handwriting Analysis Foundation, will take place at the Sveden House, in the Kirkwood Plaza, in Campbell, this Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 14-15.

The purpose of the symposium, according to Phil Moore, M.D., of Porterville, president of the handwriting foundation, is to acquaint analyists, parents, teachers, counselors and others interested in children with the behavior and personality problems that children have at various age levels.

Len Edholm, manager, and George Vierhus, president, of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the delegates to Campbell at the luncheon preceding the panel session at 1 p.m. on Saturday. The C of C is co-sponsoring the symposium.

One of the features of the two-day conference will be the Sunday afternoon session which will be devoted to the interpretation of children's writing as it relates to their behavior and personality.

Charlie Cole, a member of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, and an authority on handwriting will conduct this session. He will present some of the workable ideas that have been developed in his "Child Behavior and Personality" workshops conducted locally and in Chicago.

A business meeting presided over by Dr. Moore will open the two-day symposium at 10 a.m. Saturday, followed by the "pre-school to college" panel composed of experienced teachers, counselors and parents with Mrs. M. J. Stuparich as moderator.

Panel members will include, Mrs. Howard Tyson (pre-school and kindergarten); Mrs. S. L. Washington (third grade); Mrs. Gilmore Erickson (fifth grade); Dennis Daggett (junior high); Father J. Healy, S.J., (high school); Claude Cunningham (high school) and Arthur Heinsen (junior college).

Mrs. Walter Franck, Mrs. Dave Gray and Mrs. Wade Calvert will be the representative parents on the panel.

After the panel presentation the audience will be allowed to participate in questions and discussion of child behavior problems.

Dr. Moore emphasizes that, although the panel members are from various schools in the Santa Clara Valley, they are not participating as representatives of the schools but as interested individuals offering both experience and interest in children's personalities.

At the symposium dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, "child behavior breakdown" will be the topic for discussion led by Ernest Smith of the Santa Clara County Boys Ranch. The dinner will also be at Sveden House.

"New solutions to parent-child relations" will be the 10:30 a.m. Sunday topic for discussion led by Dr. Phil Moore.

According to Cole, who is handling the arrangements for the conference, anyone interested in children may attend the panel sessions.

Planners okay more room for growing family

Campbell City Planning Commissioners Oct. 9, approved all the matters on the regular agenda. The regularly scheduled commission meeting on Oct. 16 has been cancelled to allow Commissioners to attend the League of California Cities meeting in San Francisco.

The Commissioners tackled three last minute applications in the interest of good public relations.

Approved by commissioners were the requests of Mitchell Raskin for an office and landscaping material storage yard on Salmar Avenue; of Jack Craig for additional 3, 300 sq. ft. to existing manufacturing building at 1092 Florence Way; the application of Specchiali Construction Co. for two 4-unit apartments on Echo Avenue of Elizabeth M. Gunn, additional commercial buildings at 2223 Bascom Ave.; and the request of Richard G. Denney for a variance in sideyard requirements to construct a second story at his 205 Radford Drive residence to accommodate his growing family.

W.D. Perry was also granted a one-year extention of a use permit to construct a convalescent hospital at the northeast corner of Pollard and Burrows Roads. Perry pleaded "tight money" as the reason for delay.
